1) Usually the student is confused in explaining his/her favourite book or passage, which indicates that the child has very little reading experience and knowledge of the exploration of books.
2) The student does not desire to continue reading independently, which shows that he/she has minimal plans / motivation in reading.
3) The student does not read like he/she is having a conversation.
4) The student reads word for word monotonically, which eventually decreases and depicts an expression of anxiety.
5) Most of the times, the student is still sounding letters, segmenting / blending too often.
6) The student reads very slowly: sometimes to indicate mild, moderate or severe cases of frustration.

7) The student is not consistent in correcting his/her errors.
8) When the teacher has to start giving the meaning of words on at least 3 occasions, it indicates that the student needs more vocabulary skills implemented.
9) His/her fluency rate is $\underline{79}$ or less words per minute and accuracy is 92 -93\%.
10) For predictions: before, during and after, most of the student's answers are unrelated. The student could not relate to the characters; does not remember the names, places etc.
11) The student gives limited information about the passage. Less than two replies. Need to work on retelling skills.
12) The student could not give two or more examples or apply his/her knowledge to the passage.
13) The student gives little or no response or opinion, after giving a reflection about the passage, his/her views and experiences, has to be prompted (more than 5 times) to explain properly.
14) The student has little idea of sequencing his/her thoughts when asked a question to verbally explain.
15) This could be a problem when students have to write and explain their idea.
16) Usually the student needs support in explaining his/her favourite book or passage, which indicates that the child has moderate reading experience and knowledge of book exploration.
17) The student is consistent in reading independently, which shows that the student has moderate plans / motivation.
18) The student reads in a quiet tone, which sounds natural but at times still reads word for word.
19) The student may read 2-3 words fluently, then pause. Paying attention to the punctuations, stress and rhythm of the reading becomes difficult. Basically the student reads moderately slow.
20) The student is sounding out letters, segmenting/blending moderately. The student could be between almost frustration to mild instructional.
21) The student is still not consistent in correcting his/her errors, but may correct at least one.
22) When the teacher has to start giving the meaning of words on at least 1-2 occasions.
23) The student may have an understanding of some key word concepts.
24) The student needs more vocabulary skills implemented.
25) The student has difficulty to problem solve.
26) The student's fluency rate is $80-109$ words per minute and his/her accuracy is $96 \%$.
27) For predictions: before, during and after, some of the student's answers are unrelated but gives brief general reasons and opinions.
28) The teacher has to continuously prompt the student (more than 3 times) to explain properly.
29) The student basically relates to the characters; remembering the names, places etc.
30) The student gives information about the passage read. At least three replies, explaining the event, in a sequencing pattern. Need to work on retelling skills.
31) Gives a response which indicates that the student has limited understanding or misinterpretation of the passage.

32) The student is able to give clear details of his/her favourite book or passage, which indicates that the child has a lot of reading experience and knowledge of exploring several age appropriate books/ passages.
33) The student is consistent in reading independently, which shows that he/she understands the importance of reading.
34) The student reads with volume and expression but sometimes slips into reading word for word, which does not sound like he/she was having a conversation.
35) He/she may read with a mixture of mid-sentence pauses for breath, having a mixture of run-ons, also some choppiness.
36) The student pays attention to the punctuations, stress and rhythm of the reading, which is reasonable. Basically reads moderately fluently.
37) The student may have difficulty with sentence structure and words, which disturbs the smooth pace throughout the reading. He/she reads quickly, then slowly.
38) At least once, the student rarely sounds out letters and segmenting / blending.
39) The student could be between mostly instructional to mild independence. The student is consistent in correcting his/her errors.

40) The teacher has to give the meaning of a word of a key word concept.
41) The student needs to continue to practice vocabulary skills.
42) The student does not have major difficulties to problem solve.
43) Their fluency rate is 110-140 words per minute and their accuracy is $97 \%$ - $98 \%$.
44) The student reads aloud and makes reasonable predictions, before, during and after, that goes beyond the passage read.
45) The teacher has to prompt the student once to explain properly.
46) The student basically related to the characters; remembering the names, places etc.
47) The student gives correct responses to specific details and opinions reflecting that he/she is showing potential of higher order thinking.
48) The student gave information about the passage read. At least four replies, explaining the event, in a sequencing pattern.
49) Moderate retelling skills.
50) The student gives a response that indicates that he/she had reasonable understanding and no misinterpretation of the passage.
51) The student is able to give eventual details of his/her favourite books or passages, which indicates that the child has reading experience and knowledge of the exploration of books for his/her age and above his/her age level. The student can explain at least 3 genres of age level passages/books or more.
52) The student is self-motivated and very consistent in reading independently. He/she portrays an energizing attitude and reflects a higher order thinking.
53) The student usually is above his/her average reading level.
54) He/she reads with varied volume and expression. The student sounds like he/she is having a conversation, with his/her voice matching the interpretation of the passage.
55) The student is very fluent, with good phrasing, paying close attention to the punctuations, stress and rhythm of the reading.
56) The student reads smoothly with breaks in between, but self corrects sentence structures and words, allowing him/her to read at a conversational pace throughout the reading.

57) At no time, does the student sound out letters or do any segmenting / blending of words.
58) The student is confidently consistent in correcting his/her errors.
59) The teacher does not have to give the meaning of words that are of key words concept.
60) The student is well aware of his/her vocabulary skills and for reference, may need to focus on adding to his/her vocabulary knowledge.
61) The student is confident in solving the problem in the passage and giving reasonable inferences.
62) The student is well aware of his/her comprehension skills and for reference, may need to focus on applying and adding strategies to his/her creative writing knowledge.
63) His/her fluency rate is 141 words per minute or more and accuracy is $99 \%-100 \%$.
64) The student reads aloud and makes reasonable predictions, before, during and after, that goes beyond the passage read.
65) The student gives correct responses to specific details and opinions that reflects higher order thinking.
66) The student basically related to the characters; remembering the names, places etc.
67) The student explicitly and systematically gave information about the passage read.
68) At least five replies, explaining the event, in a sequencing pattern.
69) Excellent retelling skills.
70) The student gives a response that indicates he/she had very good understanding and no misinterpretations of the passage.

Fluency  Using the Formula Reading & Reading

A very Fluent reader recognizes the words and comprehends at the same time. A fluent reader is able to focus on the understanding and at this level, approximately reads $80-110$ words per minute. A much more advance student would read 141 words per minute. Please check the levels. A less fluent reader focuses on decoding words, leaving him/her with little time to comprehend. His/her fluency rate would be less than 79 words per minute.
The table below is a very good tool to assess fluency for your pupils. The standard for measuring fluency is 141 words per minute. However in the reading text, you would realise all of the passages are above 141 words.
Familiarise yourself with the rubric, rate and checklist. Listen to each child and record his or her initial fluency rate.
Have the pupils practise reading the passages. However, remember fluency and automaticity is different. Ensure the pupil becomes a very good fluent reader, then they can practice automaticity. That's important.
Chart progress towards 80-109 word criterion. That's instructional. As the child reaches that progress mark, you can allow the child to progress to another passage.
You use the passages in Chapter 6 in Reader Part 1, to assess your student's fluency.
The formula below can be used for any passage as well as for random fluency checking.

Fluency 60 Seconds Formula

Here is a very good rubric for assessing Prosody from Rasink (2009) in your students.

|  | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Expression and Volume | Reads in a quiet voice as if to get words out. The reading does not sound natural like talking to a friend. | Reads in a quiet voice. The reading sounds natural in part of the text, but the reader does not always sound like they are talking to a friend. | Reads with volume and expression. However, sometimes the reader slips into expressionless reading and does not sound like they are talking to a friend. | Reads with varied volume and expression. The reader sounds like they are tallking to a friend with their voice matching the interpretation of the passage. |
| Phrasing | Reads word-by-word in a monotone voice. | Reads in two or three word phrases, not adhering to punctuation, stress and intonation. | Reads with a mixture of run-ons, mid sentence pauses for breath, and some choppiness. There is reasonable stress and intonation. | Reads with good phrasing; adhering to punctuation, stress and intonation. |
| Smoothness | Frequently hesitates while reading, sounds out words, and repeats words or phrases. The reader makes multiple attempts to read the same passage. | Reads with extended pauses or hesitations. The reader has many "rough spots." | Reads with occasional breaks in rhythrm. The reader has difficulty with specific words and/or sentence structures. | Reads smoothly with some breaks, but selfcorrects with difficult words and/ or sentence structures. |
| Pace | Reads slowly and laboriously. | Reads moderately slowly. | Reads fast and slow throughout reading. | Reads at a conversational pace throughout the reading. |
| Scores of 10 or more indicate that the student is making good progress in fluency |  |  | Score |  |

Fluency Vocabulary

Instructional phonics without the knowledge of the vocabulary will be meaningless in reading. The pronunciation is important. It has been proven that exposing students to a large amount of words, increases the potential for incidental learning based on context.

However, Based on the table below, when teaching reading pay attention to the following important points and rubric numbering.

| 1. | The student has no knowledge of the meaning of  the word. | $\square$ |
| :---: | :--- | :--- |
| 2. | The student has little sense of the meaning of  the word. | $\square$ |
| 3. | Still, with the aid of context, the student has  little sense of the meaning of the word. | $\square$ |
| 4. | Based on his/her knowledge, the student  constructed a meaning of the word that was not  a correct but fair idea of the meaning. | $\square$ |
| 5. | The student was able to give an excellent  meaning of the word by not only explaining the  meaning in a constructivist manner, but applying  it in context very smoothly. | $\square$ |

Fluency Comprehension

"The highest level of comprehension is when material is read to the student". (Unknown)

Make sure the model teaching is done first, when doing whole class reading.
Here is a very good checklist for assessing comprehension with your students. Once you learn what to expect, together with the proper vocabulary (technical jargons), the checklist may not always be needed, because you will know what to look for from each child.

Important : Comprehension rate: Mild (Limited Knowledge)
Fair (Good Knowledge)
Excel (Great Knowledge)

| 1. | Allow them to think about what they already know about the topic. |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 2. | Based on the pictures they have seen, allow them to look for clues, then based on their prior knowledge, let them predict what they think will happen. $\qquad$ |  |
| 3. | During the story, ask the student whether their prediction still makes sense, based on what they are hearing of the story so far. $\qquad$ |  |
| 4. | Ask the pupil to make new predictions. $\longrightarrow$ |  |
| 5. | Have them identify describing words that make the passage colourful. |  |
| 6 | Connect the student to the author's experience regarding the cues in the passage. Observe the characters. |  |

Comprehension $\longrightarrow$ Creative Writing

Instructions

Most of the times, children are not allowed to think creatively after independently and effectively reading a short passage. After all that tension reading a passage, they are flushed in answering written questions, which becomes boring after a while.

All students do not always want to go back and analyse a passage, especially if it they were forced to read properly.

Asking questions to make sure the passage was understood is very important because as professional teachers, we cannot say that is the "last stop to reading comprehension". Creative thinking should be utilized the most.

Little on the written question approach, eventually, students will realize it is just another method of doing comprehension.

Therefore, in dealing with the theory of constructivism, for each passage read in this book, students will internalize the information and construct their knowledge.

Each student will get the opportunity to apply and reflect upon, based on the passage given, to allow the teacher to experience the student's world.

This aids in building creative thoughts and opinions to be written on paper: in whatever subject they do.

Since the objective of this book is to teach reading, take note that comprehension is the final approach to reading and students would have retained the knowledge required, therefore, this is where they will be given the opportunity to apply what they have learnt.
"While I was Reading..." worksheet can be used for other passages.

Taken from the Standard 4 & 5 Reader Part 1.

Comprehension $\longrightarrow$ Creative Writing

If you were one of the characters in the passage (it could be an animal, place, person or thing), what would you be doing and say why OR who would you be from the passage, and say why?

Answer the following questions and write your 6 sentences (Paragraph) in the following order:-

1. What is your Main Idea of the passage
2. What is your Topic Sentence of the passage?
3. What does the character do that makes you want to be or do not want to be that character?
4. Explain where in the story the character inspired you? (Or supporting details.)
5. Why not another character? (Or supporting details.)

There are 5 running record assessments. The teacher can choose any 3: 1 per term. For the first term, the running record can be done almost to the end of the term.

The final 2 can be administered at the beginning of its term, depending on the severity of the class or student.

This is a good tool to work in tandem with the Reader Approach texts for Standard four and five.

Teacher Student Manual : The Reading Approach for Standard 4 & 5 : PART 3

Running Records Introduction  Reading & Reading

The running record does not really focus on the speed of the child, but this concept allows the teacher to record a child's reading behaviour as he/she reads from the book. Running records give a more accurate measure of the pupil's ability to handle text at the assessed level. Taking running records improves with experience. Don't worry.

Familiarise yourself with the following important terms.

Errors "E"

The teacher ticks off the box when the child leaves out a word, puts in his/her own word, substitutes another word for a word in the text and if the teacher had to say the word for the student.

Self-correcting " SE"

This is not an error, but the teacher ticks off the box when the child realises he/she made an error, but corrects himself/herself.

Meaning " $M$ "

Meaning is important. The child takes his/her cue to make sense of text by thinking about the background of the story, the pictures and sentences. You assess comprehension here. The child may want to stop and tell you what he/she knows. Let the child feel free, and circle accordingly.

Structure " S"

Structure refers to the syntax. Implicit knowledge of structure helps the child know if what he/she reads, sounds correct, for example "pear and peer".

Visual " V "

Visual information is related to the look of the letter in a word and the word itself. A reader uses visual information when he or she applies his or her phonemic awareness and phonetic principles.

Running Records Sample of Work  CPR  Reading & Reading

Here is a sample of a professional running record done.

Running Records The Analysis  Reading & Reading

The $Q$ Analysis
This qualitative analysis is based on the observations that the teacher makes during the running record. This is where the teacher pays attention to the intonation, phrasing and fluency.
Teachers must observe how the child uses the cues to help them to read. Provide prompts and listen to how the child responds. With this, the teacher can create a good enough idea of the student's developmental reading progress.

Error Rate

The rate is expressed as a ratio.
Total words / total errors = Error rate
FORMULA: TW / E = ER

Example:

86 WORDS / 7 ERRORS = 12.28 (12 rounded off to the nearest whole number)
The ratio is expressed as $1: 12$
This means, that for each error made, the child read approximately 12 words correctly.

Accuracy Rate

Accuracy rate is expressed as a percentage.
Total words read - total errors) / total words read $\times 100=$ Accuracy rate
FORMULA: (TW / E ) / TW $\times 100=$ AR

Example:

(86-7)/86×100 = Accuracy rate
$79 / 86 \times 100=$ Accuracy rate
$=91.8 \%$, or $92 \%$ rounded to the nearest whole number

| Accuracy  Level | Frustration  Struggling  Reader | Instructional  Developmental  Reader | Independent  Fluent  Reader | Advance  Reader |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | $95 \%$ and below | $96 \%$ | $97 \%-98 \%$ | $99 \%-100 \%$ |
|  |  |  |  |  |

Running Records The Analysis

Self-Correction Rate

The rate is expressed in ratio.
(Number of errors + Number of self-corrections) / Number of self-corrections = Self-correction rate

FORMULA: (E/SC)/SC=SC

Example:

$(7+3) / 3$ = Self-correction rate.
$11 / 3=3.666$, or 4 rounded to the nearest whole number.
The self-correction rate is expressed as 1:4.
This means that the student corrects approximately 1 out of every 4 errors.

IMPORTANT

If a student is self-correcting at a rate of 1:4 or less, this indicates that he or she is self-monitoring his or her reading.

| My eight-year old daughter Jenny |  |  | knows that patriotism is the feeling and expression of love for one's home country, along with a feeling of unity with those who share those feelings.

As a bright Primary school student, Jenny thought then understood that along with love, patriotism is the feeling of pride, devotion and attachment, which are factors like race, ethnicity culture, religious beliefs or history.

Reading Structure Getting Ready To Read

I believe that all teachers know how the proper administration, structure or the order of reading should be taught, especially in the Infant departments in schools.
It is important that the sequence be followed to prevent reading gaps in our student population, therefore, in Standard four and five it is also introduced. Note that some of the points are definitely remedial and not all students would require them.
Pre-Reading (Concept should also be integrated in between school terms)
At the end of these reading goals the pupils would be able to:

- See a lot of visible print. Example: newspapers, bills, e-mails, bulleting boards, posters paintings etc.
- Apply listening skills when the teacher reads in a natural and cheerful voice.
- Engage Play psychology daily.
- Enjoy make up stories with their teacher.
- Tell their story, even if it's from a familiar story they would have heard.
- Listen to predictable stories, as it will give encouragement to ask questions and discuss among their peers.
- Know how to handle a book, by turning the pages for themselves, pointing to pictures and words as the teacher reads.
Rhyming, Alliteration & Syllabicating
(Could be done before and after phonics)
At the end of these reading goals the pupils would be able to:
Understand rhyme and alliteration by gaining the ability to analysing and manipulating the sound structure of language. This means they would be able to engage in activities that require them to identify, segment, blend and manipulate syllables and sounds in words.

This can occur when the teacher is audible and when the student applies the knowledge after learning phonics.

Reading Structure

Beginning to Sound Words leading kReading

Teachers should structure their lesson plans based on the amount of lessons per concept. They will feel more organized and comfortable, having a fair idea of what has to be done and what has to be completed through the school terms.

Note that some of the points are definitely remedial, therefore not all students would require them.

At the end of these reading goals the pupils would be able to:

- Give a sound to identify a letter and produce a sound.
- Write letters associated with the sounds to spell words.
- Students should know if it's through remedial or standard revision:
- 6th List Sight Words: Should be completed.
- Common Trigraph Blends: Should be completed.
- Vowel Team: Should be completed.
- Tricky Letters: Should be completed.
- Diagraph & Diphthongs: Should be completed.
- Glued Words: Should be completed.
- 7th List Sight Words: Should be completed.

Reading Structure Integrated Reading beamk

Phonemic Awareness Fluency Vocabulary & Comprehension

(The Concepts sequenced here should be done throughout the school terms.) However, it is important that there be consistency throughout. Keep momentum. Overall, ensure reading is taught daily.
At the end of these reading goals the pupils would be able to:

- Read common high frequency words and sentences.
- Read common sight words and sentences.
- Read, spell and apply sight words in basic reading sentences and comprehension experiences.
- Spell all words with phonics-based strategies.
- Use advanced phonetic elements to recognize words.
- Reading Vocabulary: 1-2 per week.

- Phonemic Awareness Part 1 Std 4 & 5 Reader (Throughout Terms).
- 8 Great Spelling Rules: Should be completed by Term 3.
- Silent Letters: Should be completed by Term 3.
- Basic Sight Word Sentences: Individual reading. Should be completed by Term 3 (Remedial Concepts).
- Fluency Comprehension Passages: Individual reading. Should be completed by Term 3 (1-2 weekly concepts).
- Comprehension to Creative Writing: (1-2 weekly concepts).
- Sight Words: 6th 100 Dolch Sight Word List. Daily (100 Concepts).
- Reading assessments: There are several diagnostic assessments to use and choose. These are to be done when there is a need for a particular pupil and class.
- Can be used for first week assessments as well. Follow instructions accordingly.

The Analytical Entrance to Reading
OBy Claxen OPala Mnights ( MBA., B.Ed. in Special Education )

In every part of the world, the English language is pronounced differently. How we pronounce it, might be entirely wrong, based on what part of the world we are in. It must be understood, words and sounds have originated from all over the world and one instruction cannot be used to teach literally. However, as we would say in Special Needs education, differentiated instruction has to be a committed approach to teach a diverse class of students in primary schools in this modern age.

The author hopes that this assistive technology (AT) will enhance learning, studying and exploration for students in our schools.

The main objective of this Reader is to teach reading, from a diagnostic perspective.
Each book in the series will enlighten students about the five Pillars of Reading:
Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary, Fluency and Comprehension.
The author hopes that these books will greatly enhance the reading skills of school students to create a good foundation which will help them to make a smooth transition to higher levels of education and academics

Acknowledgement

With utmost humility I give thanks to the Most High God.
I express my genuine love, admiration and thanks to my family for their continual support in the textbook writing project.

It is my strong desire that this book will cater to the intended audience.
Special thanks the all those who contributed to this book tirelessly: The editors, the passage creators and designers. They would have noticed the need to create something new to fill an academic gap that can reach a student or person.
